

Elena Giacomini Dennis

Elena Giacomini Dennis is an entrepreneur and senior partner of Giacomini Dennis Group. She has been a successful professional network marketer with Shaklee Corporation since 1979 and has supported many in creating healthier, more prosperous lives. If you want to leave a lasting impression, create a life with more freedom and flexibility, find your greater purpose, and lead a stimulating life... please contact Elena.

-  505-690-2327
-  elena.gd@comcast.net
-  elenagd.com

model ✨ mentor ✨ prosper

Create a Life Designed by You!

Take a moment to imagine your ideal life. What would be most important to you? and Why?

Living the life you only envision can now be your reality.

Rewarding Style of Life

Be relentless in Pursuing Your Greatness

It doesn't matter who you are or what your background is. We were all created for a purpose and to make an impact.

"Your current thoughts determine your future"

It was a search for answers, a better way to live my life and support my daughters, that led me to a business that I didn't even know existed. Sometimes it's the mess we find ourselves in that creates an open-door.

In 1979 I was at a crossroad in my life. Do I let fear and negativity consume me or do I wake up to life's possibilities? That question compelled me at a cellular level to step into who I was created to be, release my untapped potential, find my voice, live life ready and take control of my future.

Sometimes we like to blame outside situations like the economy for our circumstances, but it was my economy, my health, my world that needed work. As soon as I began to create a new picture of what I wanted, I was drawn to two specific areas of my life...financial stability and health.

I started to understand the value of taking care of my body inside and out. Taking responsibility to do this empowered me to take a journey toward building a better life, physically, environmentally, and financially.

And, just like that, the journey began. The spirit of entrepreneurship was birthed inside me. I didn't know how I was going to accomplish this, but I had enough passion to think beyond my comfort zones and confidence levels. I took on the heart to play bigger in the world and serve others. I went from surviving to thriving. My dreams are sacred and so are yours! Becoming the best version of ourselves teaches us that we are more than enough.

I am a network marketing professional who influences and positively effects people's lives by inspiring them to improve their health and create prosperity.

Impacting families across the nation and leaving a footprint for our children and grandchildren to follow in generational health and wealth is my message of hope, simplicity, and prosperity.

Today a new economy has emerged and people are recognizing that the world is moving toward a performance economy. If you want to set higher expectations for yourself, establish a business, run your life on your terms and share in a community culture that supports the release of your untapped potential in the best possible way for you and others...

Ask yourself, Why not you? Why not now?

Elena

